

2025 DICA Board Candidates

Anatoli Semenoff
Oak Leaf Street

Anatoli Semenoff has lived on Daniel Island with his Family since 2020 and is currently serving out the remainder of the second year of the first term on the DICA Board, as a Board Member and Treasurer.

Anatoli not only calls Daniel Island his home, but is also a local business owner. He is a Partner of MyDoctors Live, a Healthcare Technology Company with offices on the Island, where he holds the title of Partner, CFO / COO and is as a Co-Founder and Managing Member of Nautilus Funding Solutions, a boutique investment management and investment advisory firm. Anatoli was also recently awarded a Master Franchise License by 7-Eleven, which is one of the first in the Charleston Area.

Anatoli's two-decade-long professional experience spans multiple corners of Finance and Operations that range from Legal & Compliance, Risk, Strategy, Real Estate, Corporate Finance, Treasury, Capital Markets and Business Management.

On a personal front, Anatoli is a proud father of three children with his wife, Jelena, a childhood sweetheart. Jelena and Anatoli's children: Alicia (20), Matthew (16) and Ariana (8), have all either graduated from or attend local schools – DIS and AMHS.

Anatoli is a former competitive triathlete. In his discretionary time, he enjoys spending time with his family, traveling and serving as a Member of the Board of Directors for the Libraries at the College of Charleston and RCE Foundation.

Anatoli is genuinely excited to extend his involvement in the community, by bringing new ideas to further improve activities and amenities, while maintaining safety on Daniel Island. He will continue to bring best practices to share with members of DICA, from his extensive experience in business and as a member of various Boards.

2025 DICA Board Candidates

Hoce Kalkas
Bounty Street

Hoce Kalkas would be thrilled to join the ranks of the Daniel Island Community Association board, and represent her fellow Daniel Island residents, Moms, and business owners. Hoce believes we are fortunate to live in an incredible community that doesn't just happen - maintaining it takes hard work. She was first drawn to Daniel Island watching the "great migration" of children transiting to and from Daniel Island School, a school her children now attend, with another at Bishop England High School. Hoce brings her organizational and leadership expertise from being the owner of Daniel Island Wealth Management, our local boutique firm focused on tailored financial solutions for residents.

Prior to Daniel Island, Hoce served as a Diplomat in the United States Embassy in Singapore, and her leadership journey began with service in the U.S. Navy, then transitioned to roles at Nestle and JPMorganChase Wealth Management. She is a professor from afar at the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, with a Masters in Business Administration from Singapore Management University and a Masters in Public Health from Chapel Hill. Her diverse background spans holding positions within the public, private, and nonprofit sectors, which equip her with a unique perspective she would gratefully apply to serving our community with devotion, integrity, and creativity.

2025 DICA Board Candidates

Lauren Barber
Beekman Street

My name is Lauren Barber, and I look forward to working for you as a DICA board member. My Daniel Island ties go back to 1998, when I was a part of the first graduating class to go all 4 years on the DI Bishop England campus. My husband and I moved to Smythe Park in 2014, where we have fully embraced the island lifestyle. I have seen the island grow and evolve over these last 11 years and am fully invested in the future of Daniel Island. I served as the co-President for the PTA at Daniel Island School for two years and am currently serving on the board as a Vice President. This is my fifth year with the PTA, and I have had a working partnership with Jane Baker and the POA staff during that tenure. Outside of the PTA, I volunteer my time with the American Red Cross, hosting blood drives and serving on the Tiffany Circle National Council.

I serve as the co-president of the Barber Household. My constituencies include my husband, Aaron, three kids - Presley, Paul, and Birdie, and 2 frogs. This experience has made me a skilled negotiator, multi-tasker, over-communicator, and seasonal pancake maker. Prior to staying at home, I spent 10 years at Wells Fargo, where I worked in Business Development for Retail Retirement, Trained Financial Advisors for the Bank Brokerage Channel, and ran the Wealth Brokerage and Retirement Early Talent Development Intern and MBA Programs. I graduated from the University of South Carolina with a degree in Entrepreneurial Business and Insurance and Risk Management.

2025 DICA Board Candidates

Matt MacCormack
Wando View Street

My wife, Sarah, and I have called Daniel Island home for nine years, and we are incredibly passionate about the community where we are raising our children—Emmy, 6, Sully, 4, and soon-to-arrive baby Bella—alongside our two golden doodles. With Sarah having served as Vice President and Secretary of the board, I hope to continue building on her contributions as she steps down. Our family is deeply involved in island life through our church, the pools, parks and trails, pickleball, DI dads softball and golf, volunteering for special events, and coaching youth sports.

As both a longtime resident and owner of two homes on DI, I am committed to the future of Daniel Island. Professionally, I bring over 15 years of leadership experience in sales, management, and entrepreneurship. I currently serve in a leadership role at Stryker, a global medical technology company, and own several local small businesses, including 5 Star Bath Solutions (a bath remodeling franchise), Little Ballers (a youth basketball program teaching fundamentals and teamwork), and a sales recruitment firm. My career has centered on growing organizations, managing a portfolio, leading teams, and driving innovation—skills I believe translate directly to serving effectively on the board.

I would be honored to represent our neighborhood and help ensure Daniel Island remains a place where families thrive for generations to come.

Traci Black
North Leavitt Court

Traci and her husband Neal have lived on Daniel Island since 2003. They enjoyed raising their son on the island as well as watching the immense changes and growth that have occurred in the 20+ years since they became residents.

Traci holds an undergraduate degree from the University of Illinois and a master's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Before retiring, she served as the Chief Operating Officer of a local marine products manufacturer, bringing extensive leadership experience and a strong background in operations and fiscal management.

Active in the Charleston community, Traci has served on the Board of Trustees at Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) in downtown Charleston. Her volunteer work includes meaningful contributions to organizations such as The John Ancrum SPCA, The American Cancer Society, and coordinating local resettlement efforts for an Afghan refugee family through Lutheran Family Services.

Traci is committed to maintaining the facilities and amenities of DICA with a focus on fiscal responsibility, assuring long-term sustainability without increasing dues.
