

2026 DITA Board Candidates

Colby Hollifield

Colby Hollifield, current President of the Daniel Island Town Association (DITA) Board, has been an active member of the Daniel Island community for nearly two decades. A Summerville native and graduate of the College of Charleston with a degree in Business Administration, Colby and his wife, Heather, moved their family to Daniel Island in 2006 after living in California.

As a partner in the Daniel Island Ferry, Colby has helped create one of the island's signature amenities while supporting local businesses and community events. He has also coached youth sports and served in numerous volunteer roles, including with the Exchange Club of Charleston, the City of Charleston Police Advisory Council and the Daniel Island Community Fund. During his first year as DITA President, Colby helped lead the association through its transition to a property owner-controlled board, while maintaining a focus on financial responsibility, community character and continued investment in amenities. Under his leadership, DITA passed a zero-increase budget while continuing to address the needs and priorities of the community. Colby and Heather are proud to call Daniel Island home and appreciate the opportunity to continue serving the community they love.
